

REGISTRATION BOOKS CLOSED.

About 1910 Voters on the Island of Oahu.

NAMES OF THE TARDY SIGNERS.

One Precinct With Only One Voter, but His Ballot Must be Taken at the Expense of Fifty Dollars—Only Forty-Eight Natives Signed Last Three Days

The registration books were closed Saturday and it will be three years before they are opened again. The last certificate was numbered 1945 but as several blanks had been imperfectly filled out and consequently destroyed, this number does not represent exactly the total of persons registered on this island. Dr. Rodgers thinks about a dozen certificates were destroyed so there are about 1930 individuals on Oahu possessing papers that entitle them to a vote.

It has been found upon a cursory examination of the books at the Executive Building that several of the persons registering have not complied with the provision regarding the payment of taxes, and it is believed a careful perusal of the records will show that a dozen or more are not entitled to certificates for this reason.

Again, several persons from other islands have registered in Honolulu believing their names could be transferred but this privilege, it is said, will be denied them.

So when the list is weeded of non-taxpayers and "other islanders" it will be found, it is believed by the board, that the total number of voters on Oahu is about 1910.

During the last three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday 204 men signed. Prior to Thursday the names were posted on the walls of the Registration Board's room, but this was discontinued because of rush of business and the following names of registered voters have not yet been made public:

An examination of the registry books shows that of these 204, forty-eight are native Hawaiians, sixty were born in the United States, thirty-four in Great Britain or Colonies, twenty in Germany, twenty-eight in Portugal, and fourteen in other countries. The percentage of Hawaiians registering during these last three days is greater than during the other period.

The Registration Board has been in continuous session since July 20th, with the exception of Sundays and four days occupied in travelling. Twelve days the books were open at other points on Oahu, and the remainder of the time they have been here.

In the seventh precinct of the Fourth District, there is an amusing condition. The books were open there for two days, but only one man registered. That one man, however, has the right to vote in that precinct, and the necessary election machinery must be put in operation for his benefit.

So, at a cost of $50, judges and clerks will proceed to this precinct on election day, remain during the hours required by law, and receive this one man's ballot.

The registration returns from the other islands will probably all come in by steamer this week.

Interests in Coffee.

Thomas J. Higgins returned to Honolulu Saturday, and will leave for Hilo by the next Kinau. Mr. Higgins has large interests in coffee on the Volcano road, and proposes to invest further in that direction. He first came to these islands in March, 1893, and it was while on a visit to Madame Pele that he thought he saw a good investment. He went to the States and in six months came here again. As a result of his second visit he purchased a large tract of land seventeen miles from Hilo, and having a frontage of a mile and three-quarters on the road. On this, his third trip, he proposes acquiring more land, and will personally supervise the work of cultivation, journeying between Honolulu and the plantation.

The Australia's Trip.

Captain Houdlette's Honolulu liner had plenty of weather coming down and the racks were only off the tables one day, and then several passengers wished they had not been removed because of the edibles which fell into their laps. From the day of leaving, September 29th, to October 3d, she encountered strong northwest winds, and then ran into a moderate southeaster, and finally a little gale from the south. When a few hours out of Honolulu she pitched more than at any time during the trip. The Australia brought fifty-eight cabin and fifty-three steerage passengers, and eighteen bags of mail.

Is He Here?

The San Francisco Call, of a recent date, mentions the flight of an embezzler named Edmund Ahlemann, stating that he was supposed to have come to Honolulu in the Mariposa.

Ahlemann was the financial secretary of a German society called the Krieger Verein, and also a solicitor for the Aachen and Munich Fire Insurance Company. The amount of his defalcations is said to be over $1000, about half of which he took from each organization. If he has come to this city, he must be here under an assumed name, as no one has heard of such a man being here.

A Divorce for Mrs. Abbott.

The sequel to a story which has a Honolulu end is thus told in a Santa Rosa dispatch to a San Francisco newspaper: "Mrs. Sarah E. Abbott of Petaluma was granted a divorce today from Henry Abbott on the ground of desertion. Before her marriage to Abbott, which occurred in 1891, she was the widow of George Williams of Honolulu, who left her $50,000. It was charged that Abbott, who is a hypnotist, was in the habit of putting his wife's mind under his control and obtaining money from her. He deserted her about a year after their marriage after getting about $8,000 from her."

The Hobron Drug Company gives some good advice in regard to chewing gum in another column.

MR. SANDERS HEARD FROM.

Visits His Old Home After an Absence of Nineteen Years.

M. N. Sanders, a resident of Honolulu, Hawaii, arrived in town early in the week on a visit to his father, Capt. J. N. Sanders, and his sister, Mrs. Fanny Arnold. He is accompanied by his wife and child and they expect to remain in town about two weeks, after which they will return to their home in the far off Pacific.

Mr. Sanders left Deep River nineteen years ago and has not been home since that time. For the first five years he followed the sea for a livelihood and fourteen years ago settled at Hawaii. He worked in various capacities on sugar plantations on the islands, for six years. After that he engaged in business on his own account in Honolulu. He has seen three forms of government in operation during his stay there—monarchy, provisional government and republic. He has seen all the varied changes in the islands in the past fifteen years and has much to say of interest regarding his adopted home.—Deep River (Conn.), New Era.

When

A man strikes a red pepper in his soup he receives an impression, and impressions are lasting. How can we impress it upon you that it is really your duty to trade with us, that our prices and service are better than elsewhere? Perhaps we can impress you in this way: Money talks, talks cents too. It persuades the stubborn and convinces the skeptic. We know of no such pleader as a LOW PRICE and we have tried to make its voice heard in every nook and corner of our store. It would only tire you if we gave you a list of the many different articles we have just received per "Senta" from England, "Amy Turner" from New York, and the "Rithet" and "Australia" from San Francisco, but we have the goods, and if you call on us you will get an impression or two. First, they are FIRST-CLASS and second, that our prices are LOW.

For that tired feeling—not Hood's Sarsaparilla, but more exercise—a gun, a rifle, or a boat if you take it out of doors, or dumbbells, chest weights, etc., if indoors. Our shot guns range from $12 to $65 in price, but we find the $35 gun gives just about the right amount of exercise for this climate—that is we judge so from the way they sell. After using one of our Winchester Military Rifles till you can get inside an 8-inch bull's eye, 8 out of 10 shots, you will find not only the tired feeling gone, but you have learned to be cool and careful—things that will serve you well in other ways than rifle shooting.

Have you heard of the story of the Irishman? He bought apples for one cent and sold them for two, and said he made one per cent. profit. We do not commit business suicide by trying to make the Irishman's one per cent.

If you prefer boating and yachting to shooting, you will find we have most of the material needed to either build a yacht or boat or keep it in repair when built, and you do not have to buy any more than you need, as we have everything handy to retail as well as wholesale.

BETTER fence wire is now made than ever before and as POOR fence wire is now made as ever has been before. The BEST can be had right here in Honolulu, and—yes—the WORST. We sell the GOOD KIND. Wait for our remarks about barbed wire. We have plenty now, but will soon have a lot of the best in the world and it will pay you to wait for it.
